

JOIN THE CHALLENGE AND REIMAGINE YOUR CITY

GOVERNMENTS AND PEOPLE WORKING TOGETHER

The challenges faced by our cities are growing and COVID-19 has forced us to reimagine and change the way we live. UNDP and The Governance Lab at New York University invite the local community of the five participating cities and other people and organisations committed to these communities to get involved in the design of public policies and programs creating solutions to the problems that directly affect them.

JOIN THE COMMUNITY OF CHANGE AGENTS

We seek solutions aligned with the 2030 Agenda and that can be implemented in the short term in order to tackle urban challenges in the participating cities.

If you are a person or organization interested in working to improve the urban context of the participating cities and have an idea about how to do it, send us your proposal.
